

We are using the Agile user story method to estimate how many hours each person may have to put to complete the prototype. By looking at our Project 1 we gave it 7 story points and Project 2 we gave it about 4 story points. We can safely agree that Project 3 is just about 2 story points. From looking at the two project's hours we estimated that each person would have to work about 5 hours on Project 3. Since we are a group of five we estimate it will be about 25 person-hours.
